PORTAGE | Success Trek has joined the Northwest Indiana Forum, said Forum President and Chief Executive Officer Vince Galbiati. Forum members address the greatest economic, environmental and governmental issues facing the region.

Success Trek services include assistance with strategic planning, team building, leadership development and human resources; assessment of operational and workflow strategies and financial systems; and development of training and policy/procedure manuals.

The team also offers group and business coaching, critical thinking and organizational assessments and motivational presentations.

The Northwest Indiana Forum is a nonprofit regional environmental and economic development membership organization serving northwest Indiana.

For more information, contact Karen Lauerman, director of marketing and communications, at (219) 763-6303, ext. 181 or visit www.nwiforum.org.
